REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

We know that finding your loved one is your greatest priority. We are here to help. To aid us in returning your child to you safely, we will need to confirm the child's identity. If your child has dental and medical records, please follow the steps below.

Visit this website — www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing
Ask your child's dentist and pediatrician/doctor to complete the appropriate sections in the NCIC Missing Person File Data Collection Entry Guide, a 36-page booklet that can be completed online
Bring the completed form to MPD's Missing Person Section, located at 5002 Hayes Street, NE (202) 576-6768 or missing.persons@dc.gov

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019

REPORTING YOUR MISSING CHILD

The first 48 hours following a missing or runaway episode are the most important in locating your child. While many children return home or are located during this period, it is critical to take every action available to help locate and safeguard your children. DO NOT WAIT to report your child missing. There is no time limit that you must wait to report a person as missing. Follow the steps on the reverse side to help us identify your child and visit www.mpdc.dc.gov/missing for more information and ways to keep your child safe.

Metropolitan Police Department
Youth Investigations Division / Missing Persons
5002 Hayes Street, NE, Washington, DC
(202) 576-6768 | missing.persons@dc.gov

PD-899A
August 2019